James Moore Director Carrie Boynton Receives the FICPA Horizon Award

GAINESVILLE, FL (Jan. 5, 2021) – Carrie Boynton, a tax director with James Moore & Co., has been honored among the winners of the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants (FICPA) Horizon Awards. Recipients are recognized as young CPAs at the forefront of the profession.

“We commend these young CPAs for striving for excellence and for the contributions they’ve made to the profession and the FICPA,” said FICPA chief operating officer Donna Son. “We look forward to their promising careers.”

A tax director with James Moore, Carrie has nearly ten years of professional accounting experience. While she serves a range of clients, her primary focus has been on the manufacturing industry and she serves as a key member of James Moore’s Manufacturing Services team. She is also an established leader in the Volusia County business community. She has participated in several committees with the Volusia Manufacturers Association and will serve on the VMA’s board as Finance & Accounting Division Accountant in 2021. An alumnus of the Leadership Daytona Class of 2017, Carrie recently served as co-chair for the program’s Alumni Council. She was also co-chair for the Elevate Daytona committee and will serve as chair of both organizations in 2021.

“Working with Carrie has shown me that she cares not only about her clients and their success, but also the success of the community itself,” said Suzanne Forbes, managing partner at James Moore. “By using her professional experience in the industry and nonprofit organizations she serves, she helps them grow.”
